

2026-01-05

The Final Months of Lionel Kieseritzky

— Lionel Kieseritzky, 1806-1853

by Jean Olivier Leconte - <https://lecafedelaregence.blogspot.com/>

The end of Lionel Kieseritzky's life long remained unclear to me, until I discovered several documents that shed light on his final months. What follows is the result of my investigation.

In 1851, Kieseritzky travelled to London for the first major international chess tournament, held during the Great Exhibition. He went there as the leading French player of the time. The event was not a great success for him, but his name would remain forever in the annals of chess thanks to the so-called "Immortal Game" played against Anderssen on the sidelines of the tournament.

No. 1067 Port of Folkestone		Certificate of Arrival.
Day and Place of Landing	Name and Country	From what Country last arrived	REMARKS
1851 24 May	Mr Lionel Kieseritzky Russia	France	has a Passport from the French Government.
Signature of the Bearer		Signature of the Port Officer
L. Kieseritzky		J. Muller, Port Officer

3 Russ.—Feb. 1849.

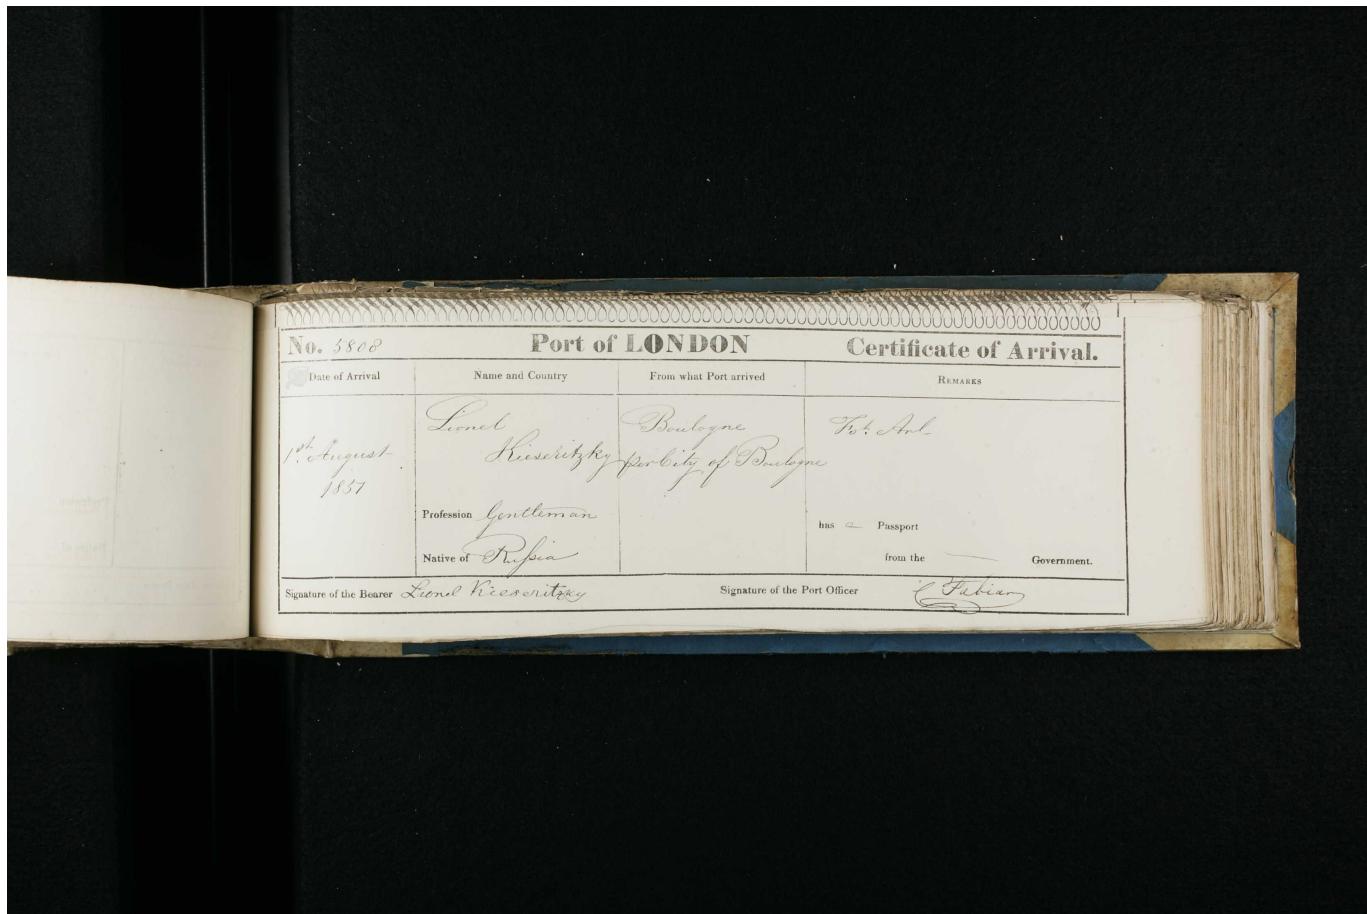

United Kingdom—No. 94.—Aliens' Certificate of Arrival.

10—15.

Certificate of arrival in England

Kieseritzky arrived in Folkestone on 24 May 1851. His nationality is recorded as Russian, but he was in possession of a passport issued by the French government.

The London tournament took place from 27 May 1851 to 15 June 1851.

Certificate of arrival in England

On 1 August 1851, Kieseritzky returned to London, arriving from Boulogne.

It is amusing to note that his occupation is listed as gentleman.

The journal La Régence, of which he was the editor, ceased publication in December 1851.

LA RÉGENCE

JOURNAL DES ÉCHECS

Rédigé par une Société d'Amateurs.

NOIRS.

Troisième Année.

PARIS.

AU CAFÉ DE LA RÉGENCE, PLACE DU PALAIS-ROYAL.

1851

= 1851, 21.5.57

La Régence

The very unusual system of chess notation that he had devised was one of the reasons for the closure of the journal, which proved to be financially unviable.

I then find his name again in an English newspaper, the Western Courier and West of England Conservative, dated 26 May 1852. Still energetic, Kieseritzky was attempting to organise a correspondence match between London and Paris, nearly twenty years after the famous encounter of 1834–1836 initiated by La Bourdonnais.

Our Chess Corner.

THE CONTEST BETWEEN FRANCE AND ENGLAND BY CORRESPONDENCE, AND THROUGH THE MEDIUM OF THE ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.

In a short time, a contest in Chess will take place between the Club of Paris and the St. George's Club, of London, the match to consist of two games by the Electric Telegraph, and two games by correspondence in the usual way.

Mr. Staunton has addressed himself to Mr. Kieseritzky, and proposes that himself, Mr. Wyvill, and Captain Kennedy shall conduct the match on the part of the St. George's Club, and wishes Mr. K., to arrange with Mr. Laroche and the other French amateurs; the prize of the contest to be fifty guineas, the surplus remaining of the subscription for the Grand Tournament.

Deprived of the co-operation of Mr. Laroche, through his private affairs at Bayonne, and believing the contest would prove highly interesting, Mr. Kieseritzky proposed it to the Cercle of La Régence, which has accepted the proposal, and named a Committee of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. Devink (President), Crampell (Secretary), Chamouillet, Delannoy, Garcin, Journaux, Kieseritzky and Séguin, to settle the conditions of the match.

The Cercle, having arranged with the Electric Telegraph Company, proposes to the English players that two games shall be played through that medium, so that each party may have the first move, and at the same time offers an additional prize of 1,250 francs to the winners.

British Newspaper Archive.

Western Courier West of England Conservative newspaper of 26 May 1852

transcription of the article

Our Chess Column.

THE CONTEST BETWEEN FRANCE AND ENGLAND BY CORRESPONDENCE, AND THROUGH THE MEDIUM OF THE ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.

In a short time, a contest in Chess will take place between the Club of Paris and the St. George's Club, of London, the match to consist of two games by the Electric Telegraph, and two games by correspondence in the usual way.

Mr. Staunton has addressed himself to Mr. Kieseritzky, and proposed that himself, Mr. Wyvill, and Captain Kennedy shall conduct the match on the part of the St. George's Club, and wishes Mr. K. to arrange with Mr. Laroche and the other French amateurs; the prize of the contest to be fifty guineas, the surplus remaining of the subscription for the Grand Tournament.

Deprived of the co-operation of Mr. Laroche, through his private affairs at Bayonne, and believing the contest would prove highly interesting, Mr. Kieseritzky proposed it to the Cercle of La Régence, which has accepted the proposal, and named a Committee of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. Devink (President), Crampell (Secretary), Chamouillet, Delannoy, Garcia, Journaux, Kieseritzky and Séguin, to settle the conditions of the match.

The Cercle, having arranged with the Electric Telegraph Company, proposes to the English players that two games shall be played through that medium, so that each party may have the first move, and at the same time offers an additional prize of 1,250 francs to the winners.

However, I have not found any further information relating to this match. I doubt that it actually took place.

Did Kieseritzky experience health problems around June 1852? This is quite possible.

A letter dated a few months later, from the collector Camille Théodore Frédéric Alliey to Tassilo von Heydebrand und der Lasa, indicates that ...

... que j'aurais un grand besoin de ces curieux articles pour enrichir mon travail.
Durant mon court séjour à Paris, Mr Kieseritzky a toujours été si malade que j'étais peu me faire traduire les passages de la Schachzeitung qui, comme vous me le dites fort bien me servent à de l'essentiel pour ma Bibliographie. Si vous pouviez me rendre cet service important vous m'obligez à infiniment: car j'
... j'aurais un grand besoin de ces curieux articles pour enrichir mon travail. jt

Letter preserved at the Kórnik Library in Poland, dated 4 February 1853

During my short recent stay in Paris, Mr. Kieseritzky was always so ill that I was unable to have the passages from the Schachzeitung translated for me which, as you quite rightly say, would be indispensable for my bibliography.

And it is here that we enter the final months of Lionel Kieseritzky's life.

The archives of the AP-HP (Assistance Publique – Hôpitaux de Paris) make it possible, with a little patience (and the consultation of dozens of pages), to uncover essential information. I eventually came across a register mentioning Lionel Kieseritzky at the Hôpital de la Charité in Paris, a hospital that no longer exists today.

REGISTRE DES ENTRÉES.												CONFIRMATION (Série N. — Modèle n° 14.)
NOM DU PERSONNAGE DU RÉGISTRE DU RÉGISTRE DU RÉGISTRE	NOM	PRÉNOMS.	ÂGE.	PROFESSION.	DOMICILE.		LIEU DE NAISSANCE.		NATURE DE LA MALADIE INDIQUÉE PAR LE BILLET D'ADMISSION	INDICATION DU N° DU LIT	NATURE DE LA MALADIE PAR LE BILLET D'ADMISSION	DATES	DURÉE	OBSERVATIONS.
					RUE DU COMMUNE.	NO. DU RUE.	ARRONDISSEMENT DU DEPARTEMENT.	COMMUNE.
2001 3734 Wable Jeannine 34. Berger 1 Rue Berger 177 12. Leboucien, Pas-de-Calais.									Frise	Maladie frise	Wabte 31	Maladie	3 mois	2
2002 6777 Bernard Aimé 21. Vaillant Chatouillet 19 5. Sarry en Valois 60. Valois.									Grenier	abîme	Reize 4.	Maladie	3 mois	17
2003 6772 Casié Janus Jean 38. Gymnaste 19 ^e Rue de l'Orme 17 8. Saucy-en-Valois.									Leveillé Edouard	Maladie	Leveillé 11	Maladie	17 mois	14
2004 6785 Estier Michel Jean 61. Bourdieu Bourbouy 16 11. Paris 1 ^{re} arr.									Leveillé Edouard	Maladie	Leveillé 11	Maladie	17 mois	1
2005 6782 Filme Léon 73. Léonard pharmacien 9 7. Guignecourt 1 ^{re} arr.									Grenier	hypostrophie	Grenier 3.	hypostrophie	8 juillet	16
2006 6783 Burnet Mathieu 68. L. Sufelot 1 ^{re} arr. 114 10. Bourgoin Bourgoin 1 ^{re} arr.									Leveillé Louis	Maladie	Leveillé 20.	Maladie	2 mois	21
2007 6784 Bricq Alcide 32. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 10 7. Bourgoin Bourgoin 1 ^{re} arr.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 23.	Maladie	17 mois	28
2008 6785 Guillemin Léon 36. Léonard pharmacien 9 9. Chery en Valois.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 5.	Groîte	18 mois	10
2009 6786 Erlich Jeannine 45. Marchalier charcutier 67 10. Guise en Valois.									Leveillé Edouard	Maladie	Leveillé 31.	Maladie	18 mois	9
2010 6787 Dub Brunehaut Léon 57. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 93 11. Bourg Bourg.									Leveillé Edouard	Maladie	Leveillé 10.	Maladie	17 mois	37
2011 6788 Pagot Léonie 26. Léonard pharmacien 15 8. 1 ^{re} arr. 1 ^{re} arr.									Leveillé Louis	Maladie	Leveillé 20.	Maladie	17 mois	89
2012 6789 Bille Léonie 38. Léonard pharmacien 18 11. Leboucien 19 11. Leboucien Leboucien.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 31.	Maladie	17 mois	8
2013 6790 Bonmek Jean 41. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 20 10. Leboucien Leboucien.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 88.	fièvre typhoïde	18 mois	10
2014 6791 Berthelot abnorme 17. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 4 10. Leboucien Leboucien.									Leveillé Edouard	fièvre	Leveillé 12.	fièvre	19 mois	88
2015 6792 Bouquet Joseph 28. Marchalier 1 ^{re} arr. 218 12. Vieux Vieux.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 35.	Maladie	17 mois	61
2016 6793 Babot Louis 45. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 16 10. Tilly Tilly.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 5.	Maladie	17 mois	9
2017 6794 Léseriftche Lionel 67. Léonard pharmacien 84 10. Bourbouy Bourbouy.									Leveillé Edouard	fièvre	Leveillé 18.	fièvre	19 mois	85
2018 6795 Kressel Michèle 43. Gérard 1 ^{re} arr. 6 12. St. Léonard St. Léonard.									Leveillé Edouard	fièvre	Leveillé 30.	fièvre typhoïde	17 mois	6.
2019 6796 Aubert Catherine 20. Léonard 1 ^{re} arr. 34 8. Léon Léon.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 80.	Maladie	17 mois	7
2020 6797 Creveuil André Léonard 66. Léonard opérateur 12 8. Léon Léon.									Grenier	fièvre	Grenier 80.	Maladie	17 mois	7

1 The page on which the record of Lionel Kieseritzky's stay at the Hôpital de la Charité appears. Population registers. A hospital for the indigent, the marginalized, foreigners, and others.

2016	2	Bulots	maine	15.	Strophelia	var. P. bonae	36.	10.	Tally	Same
2017	4892	Kieseritzki	Lionel	47.	Strophelia strophelina strophelina	Augustine	18.	10 ² .	Dorothy	Lyoniae
2018	2754	Kresel	Richard	43.	Geo	site sole	8.	12 ² .	J. Larin	meiothes on the left.

Kieseritzky is listed as a mathematics teacher, with an address on rue Dauphine in the 10th arrondissement of Paris (according to the former numbering of the Paris arrondissements). Moreover, the number 18 is incorrect; Kieseritzky lived at number 24, rue Dauphine.

His place of birth is then given as Dorbath (Dorpat) in Lyvonia (sic), today the city of Tartu in Estonia.

filles fils et serviteurs Pére Vincent S. platine	Garçon	hemiplegie Michel 14.	fever	13. avril	9.
un Garçon d'âge 14 ans, typhine mort le 19 mai 1853.			hemiplegie	19. mai	45
				7. mai	33

on the right

The page on the right provides much more information. The mention “Garçon” indicates that he was unmarried. We then learn that he was suffering from hemiplegia (paralysis of one side of the body) and that he occupied bed no. 14 in the (Saint) Michel ward. One must imagine a large ward with around forty beds and very little privacy.

Continuing to the right in this grim record, one can read “softening of the brain” and the date of death, 19 May (1853), after 45 days spent at the Hôpital de la Charité, which places his admission on 4 April 1853.

DÉCÈS.
ANNÉE	Année de décès.
1853	10
Noms	Kieseritz Ki
Prénoms	Lionel
Date du décès	19 mai 1853
	2941

death certificate

The fact that he remained there for 45 days means that:

- he was bedridden (hemiplegia),
- he had no one to care for him at home,
- he became a chronic case and then a terminal one.

Hemiplegia, together with the contemporary medical term “softening of the brain,” clearly indicates the pathology from which Lionel Kieseritzky suffered: most probably an ischaemic stroke.

A grim detail: in most cases, if the patient was not claimed, an autopsy was carried out. This was very probably the case for Lionel Kieseritzky.

The Archives of Paris make it possible to locate the reconstructed death certificate.

It is difficult to find information about his death in French newspapers of the period. So far, I have not found any mention of his death on Retronews. However, I did find a reference to it in a British newspaper.

their wearing apparel, &c.

DEATH OF KIESERITZKI, THE GREAT CHESS-PLAYER.

— With profound regret we have to record the death of the celebrated Herr Kieseritzki, so long the ornament and pet of the Paris Chess Club, and one of the most brilliant players of the day. From various distressing causes he had for many months previously been obliged to abandon all attendance at the club, his intellect having become affected, till at length his friends deemed it advisable to place him in that receptacle of the afflicted, the Hotel de Dieu, in which he breathed his last on the 18th ult.

A clerk in one of the Lisbon shops has been stabbed,

British Newspaper Archive

11 June 1853 - Farmer's Friend and Freeman's Journal

DEATH OF KIESERITZKY, THE GREAT CHESS-PLAYER.

— With profound regret we have to record the death of the celebrated Herr Kieseritzki, so long the ornament and pet of the Paris Chess Club, and one of the most brilliant players of the day. From various distressing causes he had for many months previously been obliged to abandon all attendance at the club, his intellect having become affected, till at length his friends deemed it advisable to place him in that receptacle of the afflicted, the Hotel de Dieu, in which he breathed his last on the 18th ult.

The article contains two errors (the Hôtel-Dieu instead of the Hôpital de la Charité, and 18 May instead of 19 May). However, it tells us that he had abandoned all activity for many months — probably since the proposal of the correspondence match in May 1852.

One possible scenario would therefore be a first stroke in June 1852, followed by a deterioration (a second stroke?) at the beginning of 1853.

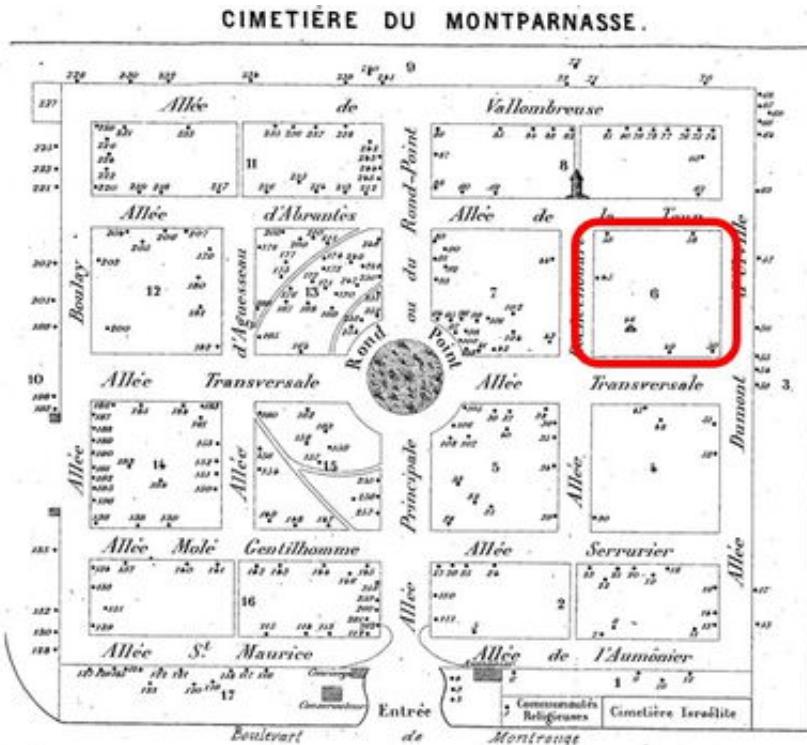

The question of the place of his burial still remained. Once again, it required somewhat painstaking online research. But in the end, it was possible to reach a conclusion thanks to the increasingly extensive digitisation of historical documents. This time, it was the cemetery registers of Paris that enabled me to discover his place of burial.

N° GÉNÉRAL.	N° D'ORDRE.	N° DE MANDATS DE LA MÂME.	N° DE INSCRIPTIONS.	NOMS DES DÉCÉDÉS.	PRÉNOMS.	AGE.	DEATHBED.	ÉTATUE DES TERRAINS CONCERNÉS		INDICATION DE LA SITUATION LOCALE DES SÉPULTURES.	TEMPO. LIGNE.	TEMPO. POIRE.	OBSERVATIONS
								à PERMANENCE	TEMPORAIREMENT
1833	3094	28	28	Wilson	Jean Baptiste	3	12			63-8-12		3	3
1834	3095	2		Pankins	En 1 an		12			2-0-0		3	4
1835	3092	2		fountain	Constant	50	10			2-0-0		3	3
1836	3141	2		Küsterthki	Emil	47	10			63-9-Commune de
1837	3131	2		Jouan	Yvonne	38	10
1838	3162	2		Benoit	Marie Thérèse Adeline	20	10

— Archives of Paris, cemetery registers

I was therefore able to locate him at the Montparnasse Cemetery. On the left-hand page, it can be read that he was buried on 22 May 1853, at the age of 47. On the right-hand page, it is stated that he was buried in the common grave of the 6th section of the Montparnasse Cemetery. Once again, this is a marker of his extreme poverty and of the tragic nature of his social condition at the end of his life.

I therefore went to the Montparnasse Cemetery. In 1853, the Montparnasse Cemetery was smaller than it is today. A brief investigation showed that the 6th section of the period corresponds to the present-day 8th section. This can be seen by comparing the current plan with an 1865 plan (Astriè – Guide des cimetières).

Map 1865

However, there is no longer any common grave in the present-day 8th section. Indeed, these gradually disappeared as the available space was taken up by new graves. The contents of the common graves were then transferred to the various ossuaries of the cemetery (galleries located beneath the cemetery; see here an excellent article in French on the subject).

_ Photograph of an ossuary at the Montparnasse Cemetery. Photograph taken from the website Neverends.net

In short, there is no longer any trace of a possible burial site for Lionel Kieseritzky at the Montparnasse Cemetery.

_ 8th section

As a small historical aside, in the 8th section (formerly the 6th section) lies the grave of the World chess champion: Alexander Alekhine.

