Web Editor wanted

Since the recent launch of our new website our webmaster Wilfried Krebbers, together with especially Michael Negele, but also with other members of the Board, has done a lot of work to get the website going. But now the point of no return has arrived: the growing number of news entries and other informative contributions makes it necessary to create the function of web editor.

The task of the web editor will consist mainly of:

- stimulating members as well as consumers of the website who are not members to contribute, both news, general information, reactions and articles on history and literature of chess
- corresponding with contributors and authors
- cooperating and communicating with the webmaster and with members of the Board
- editing texts
- formulating proposals for the further development of the website and for the policy with regards to the content of the desired contributions.

Qualifications are:

- active working knowledge of the English language
- at least passive knowledge of the German Language
- at least general knowledge and interest of the history of chess and of its literature
- some practical experience in using electronic media

Non-members who have an interest in the job, are invited to apply for the membership.

Letters or emails of application to Bob van de Velde, Chairman of the CH&LS.
