

John S. Hilbert's Publications

Philip Richardson: The Stormy Petrel of Chess (Publishing House Moravian Chess, 2009), 146 pp.

Emanuel Lasker, eds. Forster, Hansen, Negele (Exzelsior Verlag: Berlin 2009), chapter 3, Lasker in America (in German), pp. 51-76

Albert Beaugard Hodges: The Man Chess Made, with Peter Lahde (McFarland, 2008), 542 pp.

The Tragic Life and Short Chess of James A. Leonard (1841-1862) (McFarland, 2006), 213 pp.

Walter Penn Shipley: Philadelphia's Friend of Chess (McFarland, 2003), 442 pp.

Young Marshall: The Early Chess Career of Frank James Marshall, with Collected Games 1893-1900 (Publishing House Moravian Chess, 2002), 282 pp.

New York 1940: The United States Chess Championship (Caissa Editions, 2002), 208 pp.

Essays in American Chess History (Caissa Editions, 2002), 359 pp.

New York 1936: The First Modern United States Chess Championship, with Peter P. Lahde (Chess Archaeology Press, 2000), 200 pp.

Shady Side: The Life and Crimes of Norman Tweed Whitaker, Chess Master (Caissa Editions, 2000), 481 pp.

Napier: The Forgotten Chessmaster (Caissa Editions, 1998), 354 pp.

Buffalo 1901 and 1894 (Caissa Editions, 1996), 95 pp.

Other Publications: Over 80 articles published and several books on chess history in progress, including a second essay collection, a biography and game collection on Emil Kemeny (1860-1925), as well as works on Max Judd, Otho Michaelis, George Mackenzie, Albert Fox and others.