Group photo from our Wrocław tour - including our hosts father and son Zawadzki and Tomasz Lissowski (third from the right).

The grave of Arnold Schottländer (02/04/1854 - 09/09/1909) at the Jewish Cemetery of Wrocław. Inscription on the tombstone: Sein Körper war schwach, sein Geist aber stark. [His body was weak but his mind was strong.] (Schottländer was crippled by infantile paralysis.)

You will find a photo of the grave on the following page <http://www.breslau-wroclaw.de/...> as well, strangely enough the white knight above the chess board got lost there.
